FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Dear Readers,

This year's August marked India's 75th year of independence. The serenity and joy through which it got celebrated were duly deserving. Logically and Befittingly majority of the citizens of today, have been luckier to be born in "Azad Bharat".

This has also been an occasion to pay rich tributes all those freedom fighters who stood as one like a rock behind Rashtra Pitaji and made invaluable sacrifices to achieve this mission. It also provides us an opportunity to pledge the spirit of unity, put in best possible efforts and ensure highest rate of developmental growth in all facets.

Taking cue from the true essence of the freedom moment, this is also a 'more than appropriate time' for all Indians to fight against yet another threatening enemy – i.e., Accident! In fact, it plays spoilsport in our daily routines, occupations, businesses or any other walk of life. The consequences being faced include serious injuries, loss of innocent lives as well as valuable assets. Intermittent and recurring fire occurrences are being observed to be one among the leading constituents for a sizable number of accidents. Besides, personal/ societal security related incidents and cybercrimes capture a good amount of news space. FSAI being a service entity is always in full preparedness to play facilitation roles in this regard. They could be by way of more awareness creation among masses, specialized as well as intellectual training, panel reviews, pan India conferences/seminars, Consultancy / advisory roles, rendering of services, Inspections/ audit functions, Fire safety index rating, student cum women chapter level activities, School/ campus level programs etc., The recently introduced skill development center initiative is yet another milestone. Through this media route we earnestly appeal to everyone in the association's membership fraternity to join this war. Together, let us weed out the menace of accidents through determination, sincerity and continual efforts.

Coincidentally FSAI's own Journey which started in 2002 has crossed a landmark of completing two decades this month. To make all our stakeholders more aware about the modest achievements of FSAI in its domain, a special function was held at Chennai on 18th August. The roadmap for future was also deliberated during the event. In fact, it was this city wherefrom our activities got kickstarted. Commencing with a registered office and symbolic strength of 7, today we are a strong of group of 8000+ members around 24 chapters at pan India level. The membership category includes Corporates, MSME's, Builders, Architects, Fire/ security professionals as well as service providers, architects, designers, consultants, individuals, student chapters, Women wings etc., In fact, this event was followed up with India Fire & Security Yatra (IFSY)'22 at the Chennai chapter

Yet another specific aspect which is worth mentioning is about the launching of the first in the series of IFSY'22 events at Nashik on 6th of August. This is a highly significant flagship annual journey which would cover all 24 chapters in India in next 2.5 months.

Delightfully, on same day, the formal elevation ceremony of Nashik as full fledged chapter of the association and installation of newly constituted office bearers (President/ Secretary and CWC) also took place.

Complementary to the above are the images of few other activity reports in sequential order to the ones that had appeared in previous editions of the Buzz and Journal

To conclude, the best ever performance by all sports persons who represented the country in the recently concluded Common Wealth Games has been yet another important success story which would make every citizen happier. What a delight it was watching the contestants' efforts on the TV screen and looking at the presentation ceremonies wherein our National anthem was also getting aired repeatedly. This must have been an eye opener to all that winning the toughest of tough feats is possible by every Indian.

Sit back, relax and relish the Buzz menu.

Nashik city chapter of FSAI launched

LOKMAT NEWS NETWORK
NASHIK, AUG 30

The Nashik chapter of Fire and Security Association of India (FSAI), which has been operating across the country since the last 20 years, was launched in a grand fashion. Newly elected president of Nashik chapter Varun Tiwari and secretary Harsha Bhamare assumed charge on this occasion. FSAI National president AJI Raghavan, former national president Pankaj Dharkar, Western Regional Director Nimit Sheth were present for this inauguration ceremony.

Speaking on this occasion, FSAI National president, Aji Raghavan said that this organisation, started in 2002, functions at present, through 24 chapters across the country. The organisation is working in the fields of fire safety, public awareness, training, social responsibility, environment and knowledge development. With the start of this chapter in Nashik, which is developing rapidly, the city will witness many activities in the days ahead. Former national president Pankaj Dharkar said that FSAI has more than 2500 members across the country at present. The organisation has been working for the last three years to create public awareness about fire safety among school children

About 450 lakh students have been trained under this and the target is to increase this number to 10 lakh in the next two years, he added.

Speaking after taking charge, the newly elected president Varun Tiwari said that making Nashik safe is the main goal of the organisation and it intends to introduce new technologies coming in this field to the people of Nashik. He proudly mentioned that the longest tunnel of the Mumbai - Nashik - Sahyadri Expressway was done by the Nashik team.
